OPUS 9.2 Upgrade Information Sessions

Presented to: Faculty and Advisors
August xx, 2018
Today’s Agenda

• Introduction
• User Support Structure
• Live Demo & User Testing
• Comments/Questions
• Screen shots for navigation and information
User Support Structure

• End Users
  – School Liaison, Department Administrator, Faculty, Advisor
• Office of the University Registrar (OUR)
  – Business Analysts
• SIS Team
  – Enterprise PeopleSoft Analysts (Kurt, Christine)
• LITS/Tech Team
  – Developers, Programmers
• Oracle (PeopleSoft Vendor)
Live Demo and User Testing

- Basic User Interface and Experience
  - Homepages
  - Tiles and Collections
  - Navigation

- The Faculty and Advisor Experience

- The Student Experience

- Feedback
Summary

- The major change is with the Student Experience
- The Faculty and Advisor Experience change is with navigation only
- General information: it.emory.edu/opus/opus_upgrade.html
- Resources for students: it.emory.edu/opus/how_to.html
- OPUS Mobile – m.opus.emory.edu
Comments/Questions?
Faculty and Advisor Homepage

- If you only have the Faculty role, you will only see the Faculty Center tile.
- If you only have the Advisor role, you will only see the Academic Advising tile.
- If you have both roles, you will see both tiles.
The Faculty Center you are familiar with is the same.

You have the ability search classes or browse the course catalog.

If you have advisor responsibilities, you still see the Advisor Center tab.
The Advisor Center you are familiar with is the same.

You have the ability to search classes or browse the course catalog.

If you have faculty responsibilities, you still see the Faculty Center tab.
Student Center page has some minor changes.
You still have the ability to retrieve academic information on the student.
Mobile OPUS

- Another way to access OPUS.
- Phone, Tablet, or Computer
- Faculty/Advisor/Student
- Faculty and Advisor have read-only access

• m.opus.emory.edu
Mobile OPUS

- Faculty can see schedule
- Advisors can see a list of advisees

- m.opus.emory.edu
Mobile OPUS

- Left side menu
- m.opus.emory.edu