- What is Unified Messaging?
Unified Messaging or (UM) is the handling of voice, fax, and regular text messages as objects in a single mailbox interface that a user can access either with a regular e-mail client or by telephone. PC user can open and play back voice messages, assuming their PC's have multimedia capabilities. Fax images can be saved or printed. A user can access the same mailbox by telephone. In this case, ordinary e-mail notes in text are converted into audio files and replayed for the user.
Unified Messaging is particularly convenient for mobile business users because it allows them to reach colleagues and customers through a PC or telephone, whichever happens to be available. Some services offer worldwide telephone access.
