PHOTOSHOP: 3.6 VIDEO EDITING

Although there are other Adobe CC programs designed specifically for video and motion editing, you have the ability to make basic edits to videos in Photoshop.

1. Workspace

   Start out by getting in the Motion workspace for video editing. Do so by going to Window > Workspace > Motion or by going to the drop down menu at the very top right corner of Photoshop CC and select Motion.

   You will see that a Timeline appears across the bottom of your screen, as well as several new features across the right side of the preview. You can preview your video by using the playback buttons in your Timeline panel.

2. Import Videos

   Click the film icon in the Timeline and select Add Media... to import videos to your project.

   A window will pop up allowing you to browse your computer to select the videos you would like to import. Photoshop places your videos end to end in the Timeline panel. These videos will appear as layers within a Video Group in the Layers panel.

3. Edit Videos

   Arrange your videos by simply clicking and dragging your clips to the right place. Trim your videos by clicking on the edge of a clip and dragging it towards the center of the clip to trim it, and dragging it away from the center of the clip to extend it. Right click your clips to change its duration and/or speed, as well as adjust the Volume, Fade in, and Fade out of its audio.
4. Add Transitions
   You can find Transitions near the playback options in your timeline with this icon:

   ![Transitions Icon]

   Click on the icon to display the different transitions you can choose from. Adjust the duration to your preference. Click and drag the transition in between two clips, or at the very beginning or end.

5. Add Music or Audio

   To add audio or music, click on the music icon next to Audio Track in your Timeline panel. A window will pop up allowing you to browse your computer to select music or audio clips to add to your Timeline. Arrange and trim your audio just like you would with video.

   ![Add Audio Icon]

   Right-click the audio to adjust the Volume, Fade in, and Fade Out.

6. Add Text

   Select the Text icon in your Toolbar and click on the preview of your video. Create text for a video like you would create text for a photo. It will appear as a layer in your Video Group, and will be added to the end of your timeline. To add the text above footage, drag the Text layer above the Video Group, and then drag it within your timeline above the clip you want under it. You can change its length and add transitions as well.

7. Change Appearance of Video

   You can change the appearance of videos in Photoshop like you can change the appearance of photos; by adding adjustments. Select the clip you want to make changes to, then select and modify the adjustments.

8. Export Video

   When you are finished with your video, go to File > Export > Render Video... A window will pop up allowing you to change the name of the video and specify the properties you want to use when exporting.
