ADOBE PREMIERE: 2.2 IMPORTING MEDIA

There are several ways to import media to Adobe Premiere CC Pro. In this manual, you will learn all ways to choose with method you prefer.

1. File -> Import
   The first method to import your media is going to “File” on the top bar of your Mac, and then “Import…” This will open up a window where you can browse your computer and find the media that you would like to upload.

2. Project Panel
   The next method to import media to Adobe Premiere CC Pro is through the Project Panel, which (in the Editing workspace) is located in the bottom left corner of your project screen. You can either drag you media from a folder on your computer, to the panel, or right click the background of the panel and choose import, as seen in the screenshot to the right.

3. Media Browser
   The last method to import media is to go to the Media Browser, which is located on the tab to the left of the Project Panel in the bottom left corner of the project screen (in the Editing workspace). Here, you can browse your computer directly through the program and select the media files you wish to upload. After selecting the files, you can right click the selected and choose “Import”.
